PLATFORM SPLITS DEMOCRATS

MUSIC SWAYS THE CONVENTION

MABEL ABBOTT SEES IT AS ONE OF THE BIG DEMONSTRATION FACTORS AT FRISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 1.—There are three factors to be reckoned with at the Democratic national convention, the politics, the oratory and the music and by no means the least of these is the music.

The platform committee saved wood steadily yesterday, shaping the planks on which the democratic nominee will stand.

In impassioned, tremolo oratory, the speechmakers set forth the merits of their respective candidates. But the music, that simply swept the convention off its feet.

Robinson Makes Chips Fly.
It would have been an enthusiastic session without the music. The demonstrations were spontaneous and full of pep.

Even where a candidate's following was small, the audience was so interested in the speeches that it could not help butting in with comments of its own, starting to cheer before the proper time, and climbing up on its chairs.

Splinters flew from the pile of boards on the speaker's table, on which Chairman Robinson plies his gavel, and sergeants-at-arms were kept busy requesting excited delegates and spectators to sit down.

Band Quickly Takes Cue.
From the first, the music took more than a purely decorative part in the proceedings, the convention band caught the key of anything that was being sung on the floor.

It joined the Palmer band in adding volume to "Palmer, Palmer, Pennsylvania!" and "They Say Mitchell Palmer He Ain't Got No Style," and it did the same with the Cox band, when the Cox supporters broke loose with "Ohio, Ohio We'll Nominate Cox or Know the Reason Why."

It burst out with a few bars of "Dixie" or "California" or "Columbia," whenever a burst of applause brought a speaker to a momentary stop.

Cockran Inspires Most.
But it was when Bourke Cockran nominated Governor Albert Smith of New York that the music really got in its work.

Almost before the roar of applause had begun, the band was playing "Tannhauser."

There was an instant's lull, and then a roar that almost drowned the tune, and then, in quick succession, above the tumult came "The Sidewalks of New York" and "The Bowery" and "After the Ball"—old tunes that belonged to the boyhood and girlhood memories of most of the delegates and alternates and many of those who were neither.

Smith's demonstration was enthusiastic and sincere, but it was not Smith's candidacy that set 12,000 people, who were supporting 16 different candidates, swaying dreamily in unison as they sang "Sweet Rosy O'Grady."

Real Thunder at McAdoo.
It was the swing of the waltz songs of nearly a generation ago, and the memories they stirred, for half an hour the convention swayed and sang, unwilling to stop.

But the real thunder followed McAdoo's name.
When the organ found the key and chimed in on the insistent measure of "Over There" welded by sheer volume and rhythm and psychology, the convention roared its self-hoarse before it subsided.

We are sober this morning and a little ashamed of getting so excited yesterday. But there is no telling what may happen before the day is over, for the music is still on the job.

Mlydenum was considered a semi-precious metal until a few years ago.

Mrs. Julia Underhill Dead.
Special To The News:
PONTOTOC, Okla., June 28.—Mrs. Julia Underhill died at her home June 26, 1920, at 8:40 a. m., being 54 years of age. Mrs. Underhill was converted 38 years ago and died a member of the York Missionary Baptist church. She leaves a husband and 7 children to mourn her death. She was laid to rest in the Connorsville cemetery Sunday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. R. E. L. Ford of Ada.

The friends in Pontotoc sympathize with the relatives in their bereavement over the loss of a loved one.

WILL SHE PREVENT THE CLASH THAT SEEMS INEVITABLE?

Women, headed by Mrs. George Bass of Chicago, chairman of the Women's Democratic national committee, will try to assume the role of peace makers between the wet and dry factions of the Democratic party at the convention. They see no reason why either wet plank or dry one should appear in the Democratic platform. They regard the issue as settled.

WHIPPED AT PINE BLUFF; TO BRING DAMAGE SUIT

By the Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, July 2.—James H. Eubank, and the Reverend Neilson E. Aregood, a Baptist clergyman, president and chaplain respectively of the St. Louis Yardmen's association, who were whipped by a citizen's committee of Pine Bluff, Ark., Wednesday night, today announced their intention of bringing suit against the city officials for alleged failure of authorities to give them protection. The two men had gone to Pine Bluff to address a meeting of railroad employees. They returned last night.

Parade Passes Thru Business Section of City This Afternoon

Merchants, farmers, loafers and a good many other people of this city witnessed a most elaborate parade this afternoon at 1:30.

The occasion being the departure of a number of out of town visitors and normal students who are returning to their homes to spend the Fourth. The parade started somewhere on East Main and by the time the formation had reached the business section of the city going west to the Frisco depot, many fell in line and the various things that were visible would have made P. T. Barnum, world's greatest showman, grow green with envy.

The fortunate bystanders, and there were many, witnessed the most unique spectacle that has traversed the sidewalks of this city in many years. Students were juggling heavy suit cases, umbrellas, pet dogs, and parrots, and keeping perfect time by the application of powder puffs and singing that old familiar song, "Gee, but ain't it hot?"

WOOD "OVERALLS" NOW ADDED TO PORTUGUESE

By the Associated Press
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, July 1.—One result of the movement against the high cost of living in the United States has been to add a new word—"overalls"—to the Portuguese language.

When the overalls movement started in the United States recently, newspaper men here translating the Associated Press dispatches from English into the Portuguese language were perplexed. The literal translation would be "sobretudo" but as this means overcoat in Portuguese it would not serve. The translators finally decided on "roupa de operario" which in English is "workmen's clothes."

At present, however, since photographs have arrived from North America and the movement has been started here, no further effort is made at translation. The simple English word "overalls" has been adopted by newspapers and public alike.

The movement is gathering momentum in Rio de Janeiro and vicinity. Agitation started by newspapers has been taken up by students who in a mass meeting resolved to lead the way in imitation of North Americans in combatting the high cost of living.

A. Smith, assistant state treasurer. Every department of the state treasury showed an increase in funds at the close of the year.

Ada Doctor Says We Should Exercise to Overcome the Heat

A News reporter complained to Dr. J. G. Breco yesterday that during these awfully hot days he felt as stupid as an oyster and didn't have the pep to pull himself to the office without running in low gear all the way.

The reporter knew that he didn't need medicines for pure and unadulterated laziness, nor was he seeking expert medical advice, but he had observed that the doctor was always running in high and never seemed to have a squeak.

"You simply need to exercise a little common sense," said Dr. Breco.

"The man who exercises regularly can adapt himself to changes of temperature more readily because his body is trained to cool itself quickly and automatically. Diet, clothing, rest and bathing all are principal factors in the maintenance of good health during the heat of summer, but nothing is more important than recreation and exercise."

"Not only that but you should jump out of bed early and take a cold shower bath and a rub down every morning. If you will do this you will feel fine and keep sweet until ten o'clock, and if you keep one hundred per cent, efficient until ten o'clock each day, it's a cinch that you can make the hill all day in high."

Ye scribe tried it this morning and it worked so well that he thought it good to pass the idea along to the rest of the "overworked" and "underfed" denizens of this double A burg.

YOU TELL 'EM!

Today's Query.
Should you believe a young lady should let a young man know that she likes him during the early stages of his courtship?

Lowry Harrell, Attorney—You bet I do. There are a bunch of women running around as old maids now that wouldn't have suffered that fate if they had followed this course of procedure.

Marguerite Hardage—No, men are so vain that it would turn their heads and they would think the prize too easily won. The only safe way is to keep a fellow guessing until he pops the question.

Hugh Taylor—Yes, I think things will always move along more quickly when a fellow knows where he stands.

Miss Billie Zorn—No, he would treat her like a dog and be going with every other girl in town. I say make him show a sparkler before you let him know you are crazy about him.

John Gardner—Well, I'll say the poor boob would be a lot better off if he never knew. Let the women alone, that's my motto.

Eastern Stars of Ada Entertain the Team From Roff

Last night was a gala time at the chapter room of the Ada Chapter of the Eastern Star. The officers of the Roff Chapter, accompanied by several members, came up and put on the degree work for two candidates. An unusually large attendance marked the evening's meeting. A number of talks were made by the visitors, to which a suitable response was made by Miss Mary Esther Chisholm worthy matron of the Ada chapter. Mrs. Stauffer favored the audience with an interesting reading.

JOURNALISM SCHOOL GROWS

COMPLETE COURSES ON BOTH
EDITORIAL AND BUSINESS
ENDS ARE NOW AVAIL-ABLE AT NORMAN.

By News' Special Service:

NORMAN, July 1.—Six new courses on the business side of newspaper work will be added to the curriculum of the school of journalism of the University of Oklahoma this fall, H. H. Herbert, director, announces. The school will then provide as complete a course in the business management of newspapers as it now offers on the editorial side, according to the announcement made by the faculty of the school.

Instruction in the new courses will be given principally by Russell Monroe of Columbia, Mo., who has been appointed assistant professor of journalism, succeeding Fred E. Tarnan, who resigned last February. Other appointments to faculty positions are those of Willard H. Campbell as instructor, and Miss Grace E. Ray as assistant. Both are 1920 graduates of the Oklahoma school.

The school will now have a faculty of four persons, and instruction will be given in practically every subject offered at the largest schools of journalism in the country. Students will be able to specialize in either the editorial or the business side, or in a combination of the two. Attention will be given also to a professional course in advertising, for which there is a constantly growing demand in this state.

Elements of printing, typography and press work, technique of advertising, newspaper advertising, newspaper circulation, printing and newspaper costs, and newspaper management are the courses to be given beginning this fall. Students in advertising will be given practical experience on university and Norman publications and in the office of the Oklahoma advertising bureau, which has been assigned to quarters in the school of journalism.

The new appointments to the school's faculty are expected to strengthen it materially. Mr. Monroe is a practical printer and publisher of twenty-five years' experience. He has made a study of newspaper management and cost accounting. He is a former student of the Missouri school of journalism and for several years was assistant publisher of the University of Missouri. He has resigned as secretary of the commercial club of Columbia, Mo., to accept the Oklahoma professorship.

BALLOTING ON CANDIDATES DEFERRED UNTIL PLATFORM IS ADOPTED — THE McADOO FORCES CLAIM HIS NOMI- NATION NOT LATER THAN THE FIFTH BALLOT.

By the Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Today's Democrat convention program was as follows:
Met at 10:00 a. m.

Report of the platform committee was presented and considered.
After adoption of platform, balloting for presidential nominee was on the calendar.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Framed after four days and nights of struggle with clashing interest and opinion the resolution committee's draft of the platform was laid before the Democrat national convention today for adoption. Further conflict of the convention forum was forecasted as certain. Decisive in his efforts to force a "bone dry" declaration into the committee structure, William J. Bryan announced his purpose of renewing the battle on the floor. He also had several amendments to committee planks to present to the convention, but did not disclose their purport.

The committee platform is silent on prohibition enforcement. It is a long document. Effort to produce a brief emphatic statement of principles having been balked from the outset, a wide range of subjects were treated, including agriculture, labor, soldier's relief and a score more domestic questions. The preamble was brief and confined to a tribute to the leadership of President Wilson.

Foremost among the planks came the endorsement of the League of Nations and condemnation of the republican senate for having interposed "partisan envy and personal hatred in the way of the world's peace."

The Irish plank, center of hours of committee disputes, was brief. The specific reference followed a general assertion reaffirming the principle of national self determination as a war aim, which victory established.

The Armenian plank also expressed sympathy, but was silent on the question of acceptance by the United States of a mandate over that country, for which the president asked authority of congress.

Among other international subjects touched upon was non-admission of Asiatic emigrants, declared to be as a national policy, "a true expression of the judgment of our people."

The Mexican plank asserted that the administration, remembering in all circumstances that Mexico was an independent state, "had been unwilling to either profit by the misfortune of the people of Mexico, or to enfeeble their future by imposing from the outside a rule upon their temporarily distracted councils." The new Mexican government should be recognized when it has proved its ability to maintain order, signifies its willingness to meet international obligations and has given foreigners the Mexican rights as well as duties, the plank continued.

Failure to enact reconstruction measures "through sheer political cowardice," also was charged against the republican congress, it having made no move, it was asserted, "toward a readjustment of tax laws, which it denounced before the last election and was afraid to revise by the next election."

AUDITORIUM, July 2, 12:44 p. m.—The high cost of living and the depreciation of bond values in this country are primarily due to war itself, to the necessary governmental expenditures for the destructive purposes of war, to private extravagance, to the world shortage of capital, to the inflation of foreign currency and credit, and in a large degree to conscienceless profiteering. The republican party is responsible for the failure to restore peace and peace conditions in Europe, which is a principle of "armistice inflation the world over."

Claiming to have effected economies in governmental expenditures, the republican party cannot show the reduction of one dollar in taxation as a corollary of this small pretense. In contrast to the last democratic congress enacted legislation reduced taxes from eight billion, designed to be raised to six billion for the first year after the armistice and to four billion thereafter; and there the total is left undiminished by our political adversaries; so says part of the democratic platform now in the making.

By the Associated Press
AUDITORIUM, July 2.—All set for the battle of the wets and dries, the democratic national convention assembled this morning, with everything in readiness for a battle royal. The first skirmish fight was set to come on the submission of a wet plank by James R. Ugent of New Jersey, and a dry plank by William Jennings Bryan. There was little prospect for balloting for a nominee before tonight, if then.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Announcement that the platform committee was ready to make its report caused delegates to the democratic national convention to look forward to a long hard grind with real action when they assembled for the fifth day's session today.

In anticipation of a lively time on the floor over issues heartily contested in the resolution committee, crowds came early to the great auditorium and prepared for a long stay.

Growing accustomed to late starts the delegates were slower than ever in arriving, and when the monster pipe organ began its recital, a half hour before the hour set for convening, its harmony surged out into an almost empty auditorium. The hour of ten came and went without a handful of delegates on the floor and with great empty patches in the galleries. Only a few of the big leaders had come in.

Mr. Bryan came to the convention hall prepared to offer five planks as minority reports. His dry plank was the same as the one he had already announced.

Under the program agreed upon, Bryan will present his side of the question in a speech limited to 30 minutes, and Bainbridge Colby, Secretary of state, will present the committee managers side in another 30 minute speech. With these prospects before it, the convention faced the possibility of a program that might carry it far into a night session, after probably a brief recess for dinner. Whether the floor battles could be ended in time to take up balloting for a nominee, before the convention would have to quit from sheer exhaustion, was a question.

The McAdoo boomers took advantage of the interruption in the program to continue strengthening their lineup.

Cox forces, while sure of their delegates standing firm, acknowledged that they had not been fortunate in making accessions and among the Palmer delegates the McAdoo people were counting on additions to their forces, as a second choice. The McAdoo boomers were so confident of their position as to predict a nomination for him on the fifth ballot, if not before.

By the Associated Press
AUDITORIUM, July 2.—A: 1:40 p. m., the long awaited report of the platform committee was formally brought before the democratic national convention and read by Chairman Glass of the resolutions committee. It was the opening business of the day's big fight. William Jennings Bryan was waiting to offer his minority report of five planks.

Senator Glass was reading at the rate of 56 words a minute, the platform exceeding 5,000 words. Without interruption for applause of especially appreciated passages, the reading would continue one hour and a half. When the declaration

News From Movieland

Everyone has been so interested in pretty little Ann May since her recent appearance with Charles Ray in "Paris Green" that we knew this newest picture of her would be wanted for that movie scrapbook. For those who do not know much about the little actress here is her brief history:

She was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1901. Now, of course, we've let the cat out of the bag, but one so young really does not mind who knows the fatal date. In 1916 Miss May had finished a course in a school of dramatic art, which shows that she planned for her present career in her early youth. She was connected for some time with the Little Playhouse in Cincinnati and then her screen career began. She played with Goldwyn in "A Marriage for Convenience" and with Metro in "Lombardi, Ltd."

Black, curly bobbed hair, and brown eyes are two of the petite Miss May's chief attractions. Now you know all about her.

Wants Hart for Sheriff.

The popularity of William S. Hart among film patrons was given striking evidence recently, when the democrats of Hood River county, Ore., nominated him for sheriff.

Five democrats wrote in the name of the Paramount star on their ballots, and late returns indicate that Hart has received the nomination, as no other democrat was voted on.

Mr. Hart was not at all hesitant about stating that there was no doubt in his mind but that he could dictate the peace policy of Hood River county with as much aplomb and justice from his home in Los Angeles as he could from the county seat up in Oregon.

Democratic leaders in Oregon are quoted as saying that if Hart would accept the nomination as sheriff the Hood River voters would overwhelm the opposition at election time.

Robert's "Blen" Delinquent.

First and foremost, let it be known that our own matinee idol, Robert Warwick, goes by the more prosaic name of Robert Taylor Blen in private life. That is the signature he affixed to the marriage certificate when he took the then Miss Arline Peck of Chicago for his domestic partner in March, 1902.

This point being settled, it is hereby recorded that a suit has been filed in the circuit court by Mrs. Arline Blen against Robert Taylor Blen, her divorced husband, for $34,444 back alimony.

The couple were happily wedded five years, then, according to her by default and she was awarded $3,000 a year alimony. Mrs. Blen alleges that her ex-husband has paid her only $1,500 to date and that he has an annual income of $125,000.

KEPT HER AWAKE

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful."

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night. I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieve me until I took Cardui.

I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again. I decided I would try Cardui. By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well. If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial.

Suffered Intense Pain
"A few years ago when visiting relatives in Michigan something I had eaten brought on an attack of cholera morbus," writes Mrs. Celesta McVicker, Macon, Mo. "I suffered intense pain and had to go to bed. I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy and one dose relieved the pain wonderfully. I only took two or three doses but they did the work." adv.

Miss Elizabeth Woodruff of Jacksonville, Fla., is visiting the Normal today.

The enrollment this morning totals 832. Several teachers are withdrawing and accepting places in the rural schools as instructors for the summer term.

The opera "Cantata" will be given on or about the 28th of this month.
Rehearsals are now being made and much noted progress is made by those who will participate.

The seniors will hold a meeting tomorrow and make plans for their picnic that is to be given this week. Some matters of business will be taken care of at this meeting.

The picture show that is to be given Friday night at the Normal will be one of the best that the management has presented in some time. Good musical numbers will be given and all are invited to attend.

The programs given at regular assembly hour during this term have been of the best and much credit is due President Perkins for the arrangements. To him we extend our many thanks for his untiring efforts to make this school better.

The "Old Man" is due to arrive in the city this afternoon and will have something to say to the people of this city in the issue of tomorrow. He will probably provide another affair for his children who are members of the Red Red Rose fraternity.

Dr. Rolla G. Sears took his com-day afternoon. The party used three interest in this section of the country. Doctor Sears is putting forth special efforts to make this work interesting for members of these classes and is receiving much praise from the student body for his splendid work.

The Y. W. C. A. girls went on a picnic party to the Jack Fork last evening. The party left the normal about 6 o'clock and arrived at the scene of activities one hour later as the trucks were well load-

PLATFORM SPLITS DEMOCRATS

MUSIC SWAYS THE CONVENTION

MABEL ABBOTT SEES IT AS ONE OF THE BIG DEMONSTRATION FACTORS AT FRISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 1.—There are three factors to be reckoned with at the Democratic national convention, the politics, the oratory and the music and by no means the least of these is the music.

The platform committee saved wood steadily yesterday, shaping the planks on which the democratic nominee will stand.

In impassioned, tremulous oratory, the speakers set forth the merits of their respective candidates. But the music, that simply swept the convention off its feet.

Robinson makes Chips Fly. It would have been an enthusiastic session without the music. The demonstrations were spontaneous and full of pep.

Even where a candidate's following was small, the audience was so interested in the speeches that it could not help butting in with comments of its own, starting to cheer before the proper time, and climbing up on its chairs.

Splinters flew from the pile of boards on the speaker's table, on which Chairman Robinson piles his gavel, and sergeants-at-arms were kept busy requesting excited delegates and spectators to sit down.

Band Quickly Takes Cue. From the first, the music took more than a purely decorative part in the proceedings, the convention band caught the key of anything that was being sung on the floor.

It joined the Palmer band in adding volume to "Palmer, Palmer, Pennsylvania" and "They Say Mitchell Palmer He Ain't Got No Style" and it did the same with the Cox band, when the Cox supporters broke loose with "Ohio, Ohio We'll Nominate Cox or Know the Reason Why."

It burst out with a few bars of "Dixie" or "California" or "Columbia," whenever a burst of applause brought a speaker to a momentary stop.

Cockran Inspires Most. But it was when Bourke Cockran nominated Governor Albert Smith of New York that the music really got in its work.

Almost before the roar of applause had begun, the band was playing "Tannhauser."

There was an instant's lull, and then a roar that almost drowned the music, and then, in quick succession, above the tumult came "The Sidewalks of New York" and "The Bowery" and "After the Ball."

Old tunes that belonged to the boyhood and girlhood memories of most of the delegates and alternates and many of those who were neither.

Smith's demonstration was enthusiastic and sincere, but it was not Smith's candidacy that set 12,000 people, who were supporting dreamily in unison as they sang "Sweet Rosy O'Grady."

Real Thunder at McAdoo. It was the swing of the waltz songs of nearly a generation ago, and the memories they stirred, for half an hour the convention swayed and sang, unwilling to stop.

But the real thunder followed McAdoo's name.

When the organ found the key and chimed in on the insistent measure of "Over There" welded by sheer volume and rhythm and psychology, the convention roared its loudest before it subsided.

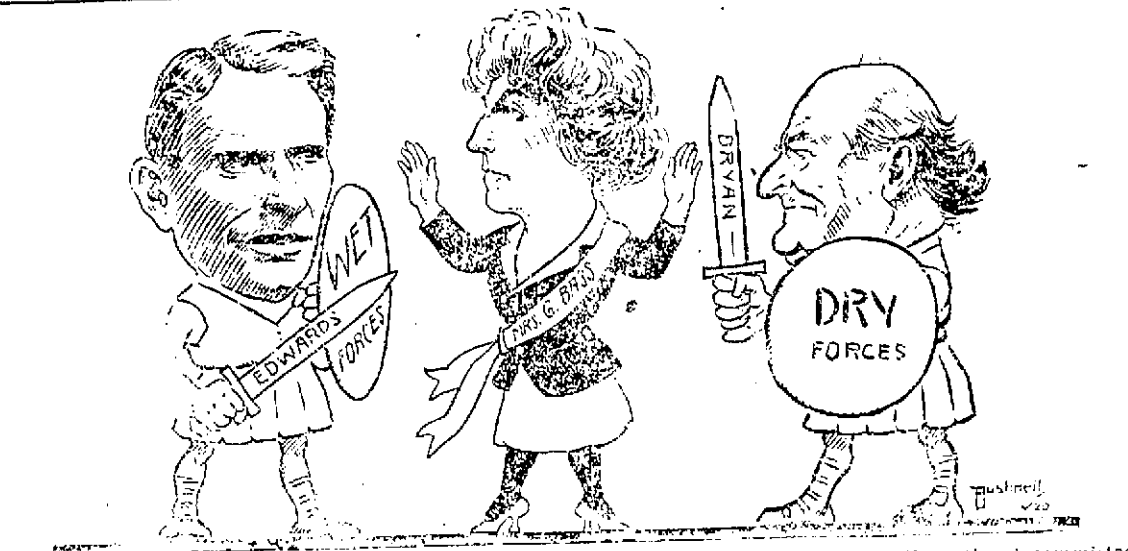

We are sober this morning and a little ashamed of getting so excited yesterday. But there is no telling what may happen before the day is over, for the music is still on the job.

Mydenum was considered a semi-precious metal until a few years ago.

Mrs. Julia Underhill Dead. Special To The News: PONTOTOC, Okla., June 28.—Mrs. Julia Underhill died at her home June 26, 1920, at 8:40 a. m., being 54 years of age. Mrs. Underhill was converted 38 years ago and died a member of the York Missionary Baptist church. She leaves a husband and 7 children to mourn her death. She was laid to rest in the Connorsville cemetery Sunday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. R. E. L. Ford of Ada.

The friends in Pontotoc sympathize with the relatives in their bereavement over the loss of a loved one.

WILL SHE PREVENT THE CLASH THAT SEEMS INEVITABLE?

Women, headed by Mrs. George Bass of Chicago, chairman of the Women's Democratic national committee, will try to assume the role of peace makers between the wet and dry factions of the Democratic party at the convention. They see no reason why either wet plank or dry one should appear in the Democratic platform. They regard the issue as settled.

WHIPPED AT PINE BLUFF, TO BRING DAMAGE SUIT

ST. LOUIS, July 2.—James H. Eubank, and the Reverend Neilson E. Aregood, a Baptist clergyman, president and chaplain respectively of the St. Louis Yarmen's association, who were whipped by a citizen's committee of Pine Bluff, Arkansas, Wednesday night, today announced their intention of bringing suit against the city officials for alleged failure of authorities to give them protection. The two men had gone to Pine Bluff to address a meeting of railroad employees. They returned last night.

Parade Passes Thru Business Section of City This Afternoon

Merchants, farmers, loafers and a good many other people of this city witnessed a most elaborate parade this afternoon at 1:30.

The occasion being the departure of a number of out of town visitors and normal students who are returning to their homes to spend the Fourth. The parade started somewhere on East Main and by the time the formation had reached the business section of the city going west to the Frisco depot, many fell in line and the various things that were visible would have made P. T. Barnum, world's greatest showman, grow green with envy.

The fortunate bystanders, and there were many, witnessed the most unique spectacle that has traversed the sidewalks of this city in many years. Students were lugging heavy suit cases, umbrellas, pet dogs, and parrots, and keeping perfect time by the application of powder puffs and singing that old familiar song, "Gee, but ain't it hot?"

WOOD "OVERALLS" NOW ADDED TO PORTUGUESE

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, July 1.—One result of the movement against the high cost of living in the United States has been to add a new word—"overalls"—to the Portuguese language.

When the overalls movement started in the United States recently, newspaper men here translating the Associated Press dispatches from English into the Portuguese language were perplexed. The literal translation would be "sobretudo" but as this means overcoat in Portuguese it would not serve. The translators finally decided on "roupa de operario" which in English is "workmen's clothes."

At present, however, since photographs have arrived from North America and the movement has been started here, no further effort is made at translation. The simple English word "overalls" has been adopted by newspapers and public alike.

The movement is gathering momentum in Rio De Janeiro and vicinity. Agitation started by newspapers has been taken up by students who in a mass meeting resolved to lead the way in imitation of North Americans in committing the high cost of living.

OKLAHOMA STATE TREASURY MAKES A GOOD SHOWING

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 2.—The fiscal year closing June 30th saw a balance on hand of all funds in the state treasury of $10,728,218.60, an increase of $2,752,604.09, according to the annual report made public today by C. A. Smith, assistant state treasurer. Every department of the state treasury showed an increase in funds at the close of the year.

Collections for the year totaled $37,236,135.10, the report states, while disbursements were $34,472,531.01.

Ada Doctor Says We Should Exercise to Overcome the Heat

A News reporter complained to Dr. J. G. Breco yesterday that during these awfully hot days he felt as stupid as an oyster and didn't have the pep to pull himself to the office without running in low gear all the way.

The reporter knew that he didn't need medicines for pure and unadulterated laziness, nor was he seeking expert medical advice, but he had observed that the doctor was always running in high and never seemed to have a squeak.

"You simply need to exercise a little common sense," said Dr. Breco.

"The man who exercises regularly can adapt himself to changes of temperature more readily because his body is trained to cool itself quickly and automatically. Diet, clothing, rest and bathing all are principal factors in the maintenance of good health during the heat of summer, but nothing is more important than recreation and exercise."

"Not only that but you should jump out of bed early and take a cold shower bath and a rub down every morning. If you will do this you will feel fine and keep sweet until ten o'clock, and if you keep one hundred per cent. efficient until ten o'clock each day, it's a cinch that you can make the hill all day in high."

JOURNALISM SCHOOL GROWS

COMPLETE COURSES ON BOTH EDITORIAL AND BUSINESS ENDS ARE NOW AVAILABLE AT NORMAN.

By News' Special Service: NORMAN, July 1.—Six new courses on the business side of newspaper work will be added to the curriculum of the school of journalism of the University of Oklahoma this fall, H. H. Herbert, director, announces. The school will then provide a complete course in the business management of newspapers as it now offers on the editorial side, according to the announcement made by the faculty of the school.

Instruction in the new courses will be given principally by Russell Monroe of Columbia, Mo., who has been appointed assistant professor of journalism, succeeding Fred E. Gurnam, who resigned last February. Other appointments to faculty positions are those of Willard H. Campbell as instructor, and Miss Grace E. Ray as assistant. Both are 1920 graduates of the Oklahoma school.

The school will now have a faculty of four persons, and instruction will be given in practically every subject offered at the largest schools of journalism in the country. Students will be able to specialize in either the editorial or the business side, or in a combination of the two. Attention will be given also to a professional course in advertising, for which there is a constantly growing demand in this state.

Elements of printing, typography and press work, technique of advertising, newspaper circulation, printing and newspaper costs, and newspaper management are the courses to be given beginning this fall. Students in advertising will be given practical experience on university and Norman publications, and in the office of the Oklahoma advertising bureau, which has been assigned to quarters in the school of journalism.

The new appointments to the school's faculty are expected to strengthen it materially. Mr. Monroe is a practical printer and publisher of twenty-five years' experience. He has made a study of newspaper management and cost accounting. He is a former student of the Missouri school of journalism and for several years was assistant publisher of the University of Missouri. He has resigned as secretary of the commercial club of Columbia, Mo., to accept the Oklahoma professorship.

YOU TELL 'EM!

Today's Query. Do you believe a young lady should let a young man know that she likes him during the early stages of his courtship?

Lowry Harrell, Attorney — You bet I do. There are a bunch of women running around as old maids now that wouldn't have suffered that fate if they had followed this course of procedure.

Marguerite Hartridge — No, men are so vain that it would turn their heads and they would think the prize too easily won. The only safe way is to keep a fellow guessing until he peps the question.

Hugh Taylor — Yes, I think things will always move along more quickly when a fellow knows where he stands.

Miss Billie Zorn — No, he would treat her like a dog and be going with every other girl in town. I say make him show a sparkler before you let him know you are crazy about him.

John Gurbow — Well, I'll say the poor boob would be a lot better off if he never knew. Let the women alone, that's my motto.

BALLOTING ON CANDIDATES DEFERRED UNTIL PLATFORM IS ADOPTED — THE McADOO FORCES CLAIM HIS NOMINATION NOT LATER THAN THE FIFTH BALLOT.

By the Associated Press: SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Today's Democrat convention program was as follows: Met at 10:00 a. m. Report of the platform committee was presented and considered. After adoption of platform, balloting for presidential nominee was on the calendar.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Framed after four days and nights of struggle with clashing interest and opinion the resolution committee's draft of the platform was laid before the Democrat national convention today for adoption. Further conflict of the convention forum was forecasted as certain. Decisive in his efforts to force a "bone dry" declaration into the committee structure, William J. Bryan announced his purpose of renewing the battle on the floor. He also had several amendments to committee planks to present to the convention, but did not disclose their purport.

The committee platform is silent on prohibition enforcement. It is a long document. Effort to produce a brief emphatic statement of principles having been balked from the outset, a wide range of subjects were treated including agriculture, labor, soldier's relief and a score more domestic questions. The preamble was brief and confined to a tribute to the leadership of President Wilson.

Foremost among the planks came the endorsement of the League of Nations and condemnation of the republican senate for having interposed "partisan envy and personal hatred in the way of the world's peace."

The Irish plank, center of hours of committee disputes, was brief. The specific reference followed a general assertion reaffirming the principle of national self determination as a war aim, which victory established.

The Armenian plank also expressed sympathy, but was silent on the question of acceptance by the United States of a mandate over that country, for which the president asked authority of congress.

Among other international subjects touched upon was non-admission of Asiatic emigrants, declared to be as a national policy, "a true expression of the judgment of our people."

The Mexican plank asserted that the administration, remembering in all circumstances that Mexico was an independent state, "had been unwilling to either profit by the misfortune of the people of Mexico, or to enfeeble their future by imposing from the outside a rule upon their temporarily distracted councils." The new Mexican government should be recognized when it has proved its ability to maintain order, signifies its willingness to meet international obligations and has given foreigners in Mexico rights as well as duties, the plank continued.

AUDITORIUM, July 2, 12:44 p. m.—The high cost of living and the depreciation of bond values in this country are primarily due to war itself, to the necessary governmental expenditures for the destructive purposes of war, to private extravagance, to the world shortage of capital, to the inflation of foreign currency and credit, and in a large degree to senseless profiteering. The republican party is responsible for the failure to restore peace and peace conditions in Europe, which is a principle of "armistice inflation the world over."

Claiming to have effected economies in governmental expenditures, the republican party cannot show the reduction of one dollar in taxation as a corollary of this small pretense. In contrast to the last democratic congress enacted legislation reduced taxes from eight billion, designed to be raised to six billion for the first year after the armistice and to four billion thereafter; and there the total is left undiminished by our political adversaries; so says part of the democratic platform now in the making.

AUDITORIUM, July 2.—All set for the battle of the wets and dries, the democratic national convention assembled this morning, with everything in readiness for a battle royal. The first skirmish fight was set to come on the submission of a wet plank by James R. Ugent of New Jersey, and a dry plank by William Jennings Bryan. There was little prospect for balloting for a nominee before tonight, if then.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Announcement that the platform committee was ready to make its report caused delegates to the democratic national convention to look forward to a long hard grind with real action when they assembled for the 5th day's session today.

In anticipation of a lively time on the floor over issues heartily contested in the resolution committee, crowds came early to the great auditorium and prepared for a long stay.

Growing accustomed to late starts the delegates were slower than ever in arriving, and when the monster pipe organ began its recital, a half hour before the hour set for

A relief cock with a handle that is up when the valve is closed is liable to work open if the plug loosens through wear. The best way to remedy such a trouble is to buy a new one with a spring to keep the plug tight as it wears. Another method is to fill the hole in the plug and drill a new hole in such a position that the handle will be pointing downward.

Tire Hints
After you have finished blowing up the tire, drop a film of moisture on the valve outlet. If this moisture stays there, obviously the valve is tight, but if it disappears there is a leakage of air. In putting on the valve cap, after it has been screwed tight, loosen it a little and listen to see if there is any leak. If there is, then the cap has pushed the plunger down, and the thing to do is to adjust the washer in the cap so that it does not touch the plunger, or else get a new cap.

Oil in tires is a thing to be avoided. One way is not to put any oil on the plunger of a hand tire pump. Rather use dry graphite in small quantities. Even too much graphite is to be avoided, because of the possibility of clogging the valve. It is not advisable to use a non-skid tire on one rear wheel and a plain tread on the other wheel. If this is done the plain tread tire will be forced to do the skidding and will wear out much faster. It is best to equip both rear wheels the same in order to obtain uniform tire wear.

Aside from under-inflation, small cuts in the tires are very injurious. Moisture and grit in these cuts will loosen the fabric and cause rapid depreciation and eventually a blow-out. All small cuts should receive prompt attention and treatment. By doing this the life of the tire can be prolonged fully 30 per cent.

Brazil has outlined an enormous irrigation program to relieve drought stricken sections.

Ship By Truck

Trucks Built to Last

Progress and development are dependent upon transportation more than any other single factor. And the greatest factor at present in the transportation system is the motor truck. The necessity of more adequate transportation has resulted in the universal recognition of the motor truck's value as a transportation factor.

The record of the Available's achievement is interesting. The first truck manufactured is still in active service, with a record of more than 200,000 miles of service. To keep pace with the steady increase in sales, plant facilities have been enlarged until several complete trucks are turned out each day.

The Available motor is economical on gasoline and oil. It has large water spaces that completely surround each cylinder and each valve. The cylinders, instead of being reamed, are ground. The crankshaft and pistons are ground and balanced to finer dimensions, while the main bearings, as well as the connecting rod bearings, are larger than usual. The oil for the connecting rod bearings and wrist pin bearings is pumped from the main bearings, through the crankshaft to the connecting rod bearing, and thence through fine pipe attached to the connecting, to the wrist pin bearing. This construction insures positive lubrication. The motor being mounted on three points, relieves the crank case from undue strain. Aluminum crank case, bronze blacked babbitt bearings and combined inlet and exhaust pipe are used. Cylinder heads are removable.

The Available clutch is positive and smooth in action. Simplicity and rugged construction are the dominant features of the Available transmission. The axle is of scientific construction, made of the finest quality nickel steel, heat treated. Timken bearings are used in the steering knuckle heads, wheels, etc., and all wearing parts are made of high grade, heat-treated alloy steel. The rear axles are the highly efficient worm drive type. The springs are made of the finest silico-manganese, heat-treated and oil-tempered steel.

Each unit in the Available truck is selected after the most exhaustive experiments. The power of the motor, the smoothness of the clutch, the flexibility of the frame and springs, the strength of the transmission, the power of the universals—all have a direct relation to the load to be carried.

To meet the exacting requirements of tractors and heavy duty trucks the Lockwood-Ash Motor Co., of Jackson, Mich., have added to their sterling line a tractor spark plug. Ordinary plugs will not withstand for any length of time the great heat produced by these engines. Scientifically conducted, after long experimentation, the makers of the Sterling tractor plugs claim they will meet the severest tests. The porcelain core is unusually heavy, the combustion chamber extra deep and the center electrode, made of monel metal, will not warp. Like other Sterlings these heavy duty plugs are separable and easily cleaned.

CONCERNING LYNCHINGS

During the first six months of 1920 there were twelve lynchings in the United States, according to the report just received from Tuskegee Institute. This is quite a reduction since the first six months of 1919 when there were twenty-nine, and the first six months of 1918 when there were forty-five. The twelve lynched this year were negroes and eight of the twelve were charged with rape.

The states in which lynchings have occurred this year and the number in each state are as follows: Alabama, 2; Florida, 1; Georgia, 2; Kentucky, 1; Kansas, 1; Minnesota, 3; South Carolina, 1; Texas, 1. Thus it will be seen that eight of the lynchings were in the South and four in the North. The greatest number in any one state was in the extreme North at Duluth, Minnesota, where three men were recently hanged.

Compared with 1918 the decrease in the number of lynchings is most gratifying. The abnormal number in that year was undoubtedly due to the high tension under which the country was laboring during the war period and to the unrestrained waves of lawlessness incident to the war period. Still the number for this year is sufficiently large to warrant serious concern.

Possibly it would be well for the country to forget some of the things born of the world war, but Bernstorff's letter asking for money to "influence congress as on former occasions" is not one of them. The people should long remember and never forget that somewhere in the halls of congress there were men taking the dirty money of the unspeakable Hun. If there is any way to ascertain who was the recipient of German bribes, that way should be found and followed to the bitter end. The traitorous wretches who blew up munitions plants and burned railroad bridges were bad enough, but the congressman sworn to support the constitution and laws of his country that pocketed the gold of Potsdam is more contemptible than all others. Every American voter should scan the record of every congressman and see what that record indicates as to what congressman was in the Kaiser's pay.

"The Democratic party never has apologized for winning the war and it never will." This was the substance of the greatest convention speech heard in a quarter of a century. When Homer Cummings made that speech he formed a battle slogan that has already caused Boise Penrose to order Harding off his front porch at Marion. That speech has already been heard in every corner of the republic. Before the ideas of November come the party of Grand Old Penrose will have much cause for regret that it has denounced so savagely everybody who had anything to do with winning the war.

The Democratic party's Cummings is well matched by the Republican party's goings.

Maybe Gene Kerr did discover Senator Harding, but we can't see why he is bragging about it.

For pure and unadulterated enjoyment a safe and sane Fourth of July has nothing on the fourth of August.

You no doubt have noticed that since we have woman's suffrage in Oklahoma the candidates haven't a word to say about "the plain people."

When Harding of Ohio read that speech of Homer Cummings he felt just like he does when someone pies a form in the Marion Star office.

Those two women who matched a fist fight on the floor of the Frisco convention at least established the fact that women have equal rights with men.

When booze was a live issue you couldn't find a politician who would even mention it in a national convention. Now that John Barleycorn is dead they won't talk about anything else.

We notice in "state headquarters dope" that J. Elmer Thomas and Fred Tucker and Bert Hodges are going to Tennessee in August to help put over the Susan B. Anthony Amendment. They had better be careful. Those southern colonels know something about poker themselves.

The prominence attained in the San Francisco convention by Mrs. McDougall of Sapulpa is gratifying to all Oklahomans. It is particularly gratifying to the Evening News for the reason that it was in our editorial columns that she was first mentioned as a proper person to represent Oklahoma at that convention.

State Press Comment

Muskogee Phoenix: If divorces keep on increasing it may become necessary to establish state exchanges for second-hand mates.

Durant News: Senator Harding is claimed by the "drys" but he has not received the support of William J. Bryan.

Muskogee Phoenix: Each nation is building submarines in order to furnish its share of atrocities in the next war.

Muskogee Phoenix: After the ladies get the ballot, there will be very little campaign talk about the "plain people."

Chickasha Express: We have often wondered what a minister of the gospel says when he gets up at night and bumps his shins on a rocking chair.

Bartlesville Examiner: "The Bartlesville Examiner, one of the staunchest republican papers in the state," McAlester News. Boy, page, Brother Harrison of the Ada News.

Bartlesville Examiner: Our idea of the most futile thing in the world is Senator Gore attempting to square himself with the ex-soldier.

Oklahoma: Chickasha has declared war on the bag-worms in an effort to save shade trees there. It is a question of the worms or the trees and most persons prefer the trees.

Oklahoma City Times: The reception of Wm. F. McCombs' attack on the president indicates that the sorehead isn't any more popular in politics than elsewhere.

Shawnee News: If Senator Joe Robinson were at all sensitive about the matter he certainly would be peeved the way the papers have almost universally misspelled his name, some going so far as to confound him with the governor of Oklahoma.

Muskogee Phoenix: The Methodist bishops are calling for the church throughout the world to pray, in view of the great unrest. The Lord has already provided the cure. Work is the answer.

Shawnee News: A humorist remarks that with Cleveland, Cincinnati and Harding leading their respective leagues and Cox standing a good chance of leading another, Ohio seems to be doing fairly well this summer.

Herald: Nearly two hundred thousand draft dodgers being sought is list of news item from Washington. One of them is Grover Cleveland Bergdoll. If he and others of his kindred were all Oklahomans T. P. Gore would sure get a heavy vote, wouldn't he.

Enid News: We saw a carpenter with a two-by-four on his shoulder headed toward the northeast corner of the square, which confirms the rumor that a ten-story building is to be erected—some day.

Chickasha Express: Carter Glass, another one of the democratic presidential possibilities, is also a printer, reporter and editor. It certainly looks like there is a mighty slim chance for the noble Fourth Estate to fall to land something this year.

Oklahoma City Times: Senator Reed should have no doubt by this time about how his party feels toward him. He was first turned down by the democratic convention of Missouri then by the democratic national committee, and finally by the credentials committee of the national convention.

Lawton Constitution: With the elimination of Carranza the Mexican government appears eager to win the friendship of the United States, and the introduction of much needed American capital into that strife ridden country. There is a way, if the Mexicans care to pursue it. Make American life and American investments as safe south of the Rio Grande as they are north of it, and recompense Americans for the losses they have sustained in the past. When that is done, America will believe in the sincerity of Mexico, but until then all protestations of friendship must be taken with a liberal application of salt.

SENATOR LEE OVERMAN of North Carolina, a strong administration supporter, hopes to see a big navy plank in the democratic platform.

Muskogee Phoenix: Lowden need not worry. He has a good berth.

Muskogee Phoenix: The Sick Man of Europe should do better now that almost everything has been amputated.

Lawton Constitution: Some girls marry for love and some for money but most of them marry when they get a good chance.

Bartlesville Examiner: The credentials committee to Senator Reed at Frisco—"verily, verily I say unto you, except that a republican be born again he can in no wise enter the heaven of the democrats."

Shawnee News: Now that Eugene Kerr cannot well wear his major's uniform during the next session of the legislature, if re-elected, he will probably pose in the guise of the "original discoverer of Senator Harding."

THE FIRST DARK HORSE

1795—Nov. 2, James Knox Polk born in Mecklenburg county, N. C.
1823-5—Member Tennessee legislature.
1825-39—Member of congress.
1839-41—Governor of Tennessee.
1844—Nominated for president by the Democrats and elected.
1845—March 4, inaugurated eleventh president, aged forty-nine.
1846—July 17, Oregon question settled.
1846-7—The Mexican war.
1848—Greatest territorial conquest in American history.
1849—June 15, death of Polk, aged fifty-three.

JAMES KNOX POLK was the first dark horse to win the presidential race, and his figure remains among the pale shadows in the procession of presidents across the pages of history.

When he was yet a boy the family of James K. Polk moved from North Carolina to Tennessee, where he was too frail for frontier farming and was put to work behind the counter of a crossroads store. After a time in that excellent preparatory school of life he returned to his native state to enter college, and he graduated from the University of North Carolina.

Becoming a country lawyer, he was sent to the Tennessee legislature; married Sarah Childress, daughter of a well-to-do man of business, and went to congress for 14 years, in the course of which he became first the Jackson leader of the house and finally speaker.

Next he took his seat as governor of Tennessee for a term. After having been twice defeated in his effort to obtain a second election to the governorship, those defeats were immediately

ately crowned with the Democratic nomination for president.

It was in the first year of the telegraph, and when the name of Clay was ticked off as the nominee of the Whig convention at Baltimore those wisecracks of Washington who still regarded Morse as an impostor said that the trick was easy, since anyone could have guessed who the Whig nominee would be. Three weeks afterward, when the inventor at the capital spelled out the name of Polk as the Democratic nominee the doubting Thomases were convinced that he was a fraud. They scoffed at such an absurdity and were not persuaded of the truth until the arrival of a train from Baltimore.

The obscurity of "Jim" Polk, which that smug, unassuming little man of respectable abilities had preserved on the eminence of the speaker's chair, was deepened by the shining fame of Van Buren, whom he had displaced at the convention, and of Clay, against whom he was matched before the people. Those two statesmen had taken it for granted that they were to be the champions of their respective parties. History suspects that they concocted in a friendly visit two letters which appeared suspiciously close together, and which were suspiciously alike in discouraging the annexation of Texas at risk of war with Mexico.

Van Buren stood by his guns against annexation, going down in the Democratic convention under the displeasure of the southern slaveholders and the alarm of northern doughfaces. Clay faltered in the campaign. Quibbling, qualifying and taking a back track, he went down at the election under the indignation of the abolitionists, who polled enough votes for their third ticket to cause his defeat.

Polk lost Tennessee at the polls, and is the only man, with the sole exception of Wilson in 1916, who has been elected without his own state. For several days the national election was in doubt, with the result hanging on a complete count in New York. At last it was found that Polk had carried the state by 5,000—thanks to the Liberty party, which had drawn away more than that number of votes from "the great compromiser." Henry Clay had compromised his last chance for the presidency.

OLD ROUGH AND READY

1784—November 24, Zachary Taylor born in Orange county, Va.
1785—Removed to Kentucky.
1808—Lieutenant in the regular army.
1812—Fighting Indians in Indiana.
1832—In the Black Hawk war in Illinois.
1836-7—In the Seminole war in Florida.
1840-6—In command of the department of the southwest.
1846—May 8, opening engagement with Mexico at Palo Alto.
May 9, Battle of Resaca de la Palma.
September 24, capture of Monterey.
1847—February 22, 23, 24, Battle of Buena Vista.
1848—Nominated for president by the Whigs.
1849—March 5, inaugurated twelfth president, aged sixty-four.
1850—July 9, died in the White house, aged sixty-five.

ZACHARY TAYLOR was the first army man to be president, the second being General Grant. A dozen presidents, from Washington to Roosevelt, had seen war service, but only as citizen soldiers.

At twenty-three he entered the army as a lieutenant, and he remained in it 40 years, until he was inaugurated president. Yet he had seen only a little fighting with the Indians before his campaign in Mexico, where he commanded perhaps not many more than 6,000 men and fought half a dozen engagements, ranging from the opening skirmish at Palo Alto to the battle of Buena Vista. In this last, his little army of raw troops was outnumbered four to one. But he spurred Santa Anna's demand for his surrender, and, "with a little more grape" from Captain Bragg's battery, he defeated the Mexicans.

The commanders in the two Mexican campaigns, Zachary Taylor and Winfield Scott, were as unlike as their popular nicknames would indicate—"Old Rough and Ready" and "Old Fuss and Feathers." "Old Rough and Ready" remained throughout his army service a simple American soldier, a capable officer in peace and a resourceful one in war.

Obedient always to the civil authority, he retained a truly American dislike of military ceremonial and manners.

He was as plain in his private life and with a wife as unaffected as himself. This devoted companion made her home with him in military stockade and tents, sending her children as they came along back to the care of relatives, but refusing to be parted from her husband.

Like every man who has heard the seductive suggestion of his name for the presidency, Taylor was not long in yielding to it. Revising his own poor opinion of his qualifications in the light of their higher appraisal by others, he came to regard himself as the people's candidate and he announced that he would run as such even if no party should nominate him.

The party preference of the old soldier was in doubt, with no other clue to it except his brother's illuminating remark that Zachary liked Henry Clay and American-made clothes. The Whigs nominated him without knowing where he stood on any question and they made no platform for him to stand on. It was a merry game with the great problems that confronted the nation.

After they had nominated Taylor, the Whigs became fearful for a time that the joke was on them. While they waited and no word came from their nominee at Baton Rouge, they took alarm lest he would not accept the honor from their party. But he had not received their letter of notification. For they had neglected to prepay the postage on it, and "Old Rough and Ready" was refusing to receive all unpaid mail.

TWELVE MILLION
INDIAN SLAVES
CRY FOR HELP

By the Associated Press

MEXICO CITY, July 2.—Twelve million Indians, who have slaved for five cents a day for five years for a time to support 3,000,000 idlers, cry out for help to the newly formed National Agrarian party, according to Crisoforo Ibarra, who made the keynote speech at the party's organization here yesterday, according to El Heraldo de Mexico.

"Since childhood I have lived the life of the peasants," said Ibarra. "I know how much the toilers of the field have suffered, how much they need and how much they merit. They have spent five years at a time earning the miserable daily wage of ten centavos (five cents) tilling the earth with the sweat of their brow for other people's profit. In the beginning of our history as a people the Indians were reduced to worse than nothing by the Spanish agents, who, to enslave them, incited in them fanaticism for the 'Virgin of Guadalupe,' so as to be able to do anything they pleased with them later, by invoking this name; and the Indian was reduced to slavery."

"For this reason the Indian hates the white man. The Indians, who call the animal that roams the fields 'cuauhtemoc,' simply call the white man 'coyote,' that is thief. This because for a long time there have been in Mexico 12,000,000.

Bitter attacks on President Carranza and some of his followers featured the address of the newly-elected president, Antonio Diaz Soto Gama, who said that Emiliano Zapata was his "only chief."

THE COST OF DYING
IS STILL MOUNTING

Now comes assurance from Ada undertakers that it costs more than twice as much to die as formerly. The cost of dying has kept pace with all the rising costs of living, they declare.

Caskets, for example, have exactly doubled in value. The cheapest four years ago was quoted at $35 to $50. One under $100 is a novelty today.

Marble tombstones and markers have gone up over 125 percent. An average "stone" now costs from $200 to $300, and are quoted as high as $10.00. Costs of transportation and of labor are given as reasons for the big advance.

Space Rate Same
Grave space hasn't increased in price is the word from the cemetery men. Single lots still cost $15 the 1914 price, they assert.

Cemeteries assert that the labor necessary to dig and fill in a grave and cart off the extra dirt costs them over $5 of the $15.

The cost of cabs, hearses autos are still rising. For example a hearse which formerly rented for from $5 to $8 now cost $10 and up.

Everything used by undertakers has increased in price, they say. Embalming fluids, made from "war" chemicals, has increased out of all reason, they assert.

And then there is the matter of flowers—they range from 50 to 100 percent higher, depending on the kind and quality, florists say.

Expensive Burials
But despite the higher costs people are demanding more and more expensive burials, undertakers say. They are no longer content with simple wooden caskets, but now must have steel and metal ones which have increased almost 200 per cent in price.

Everybody wants large, well placed lots now, cemetery officials report. And any one who isn't buried from an auto hearse followed by autos instead of old fashioned cabs, is waw behind the times. It is a common occurrence for the stone men to sell $2500 to $5000 tombstones.

In these times of rising prices the county still holds the record. By law $20 is allowed for burial of any county charge who dies while in the county's care.

Wine manufacture antedates history.

The Art Preservative

Many a successful business man dates his start up the ladder of finance from the time he discovered that printing, artistically done, is the greatest business builder known to modern men. One should remember, however, that the printing must be done correctly and on good paper to get the best results. To get the best results a print shop must have plenty of machinery, type, inks and experienced and artistic printers. All these can be found in the News Print Shop. It is the best equipped and manned of any print shop in the South eastern part of the state. Phone us for quotations or better still send in the job and tell us to get it out.

"THE RIGHT TO LIE"

A seven-part Pathe Special Feature

Upon the witness stand, after swearing to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, this girl bares her soul and testifies, "I was guilty with Drake. I was guilty with Dana. When my husband asked me I could not tell him."

But her statement is a black lie! What was her motive for lying? Why did she brand herself as a scarlet creature when her life was pure and blameless?

HAD SHE "THE RIGHT TO LIE" TO HER HUSBAND? TO SAVE HER HUSBAND? Don't answer until you've seen this play and thought it over. It's a great play, pulsing with big thoughts, presented in a clean, entertaining manner. It will wet your eyes, stir your heart and make you think.

news of American Legion

Norman Howard Post No. 72 The Connecticut Legion News recently made its premier bow to Connecticut Legionnaires as the official monthly publication of the Legion in that state. It is a 24-page publication. Avery D. Toohey, Washington Building, New Haven Conn., is the editor and publisher.

Jefferson Davis Post, Elkton, Ky., recently celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of Todd County. A parade by ex-service men, addresses, music and a dinner were features of the celebration. The Post increased its membership by one-half during the day.

A reception committee composed entirely of members of the American Legion acted as hosts to Georges Carpentier, the French champion during his recent visit to Indianapolis. After taking Carpentier on a tour of the city, he was chief guest at a dinner at the Columbia club.

More than 5,000 persons attended a Community Circus given under the auspices of the Mattoon, Ill., Post. The Post hired a professional director, who trained the performers. The expenses of the production were approximately $1,500, and the profits for the Post treasury was more than $1,000.

Roping, throwing and riding of wild steers was the feature of a rodeo—the name of an entertainment that probably will puzzle Eastern Legionnaires—given by the Frank S. Reynolds Post of Bakkefield, Cal. Cowboys and cowgirls took part in fourteen events, the final one listed on the program as "throwing the bull".

San Diego, Cal., Post recently announced that 108 civil service positions in San Diego were held by persons who had never taken civil service examinations. The Post is insisting that the provisions of the city's charter be obeyed and that former service men get equal chances to obtain positions which were filled during the war without examination.

These Poor Looeys
The entire female population of the little French village had turned out for the officer's dance and a few Y. M. C. A. girls had managed to sneak down from a nearby town.

Along breezed a second lieutenant on the outskirts of the crowd he caught sight of a perfect type of Gallic beauty. With the aid of shrugging of shoulders and much wavings of hands and tapping of feet he made her understand he wanted the next dance. She nodded assent. And then up came a private who had gotten in by mistake.

"Dance?" he asked.
"Sorry, kid," answered the perfect type. I got the next one with this dummy here. But he looks like a fliv and I'll shake him at the end and see you.

'Twas Ever Thus
The Skipper: "Well sergeant, has that detail got rid of that sea of mud yet?"
Top Kick: "Yes, sir. Pushed it all into the creek sir."

"That's good. I suppose they have laid duck boards all around the barracks?"
"Yes, sir, and the mess hall too."

"Have you put that floor in the kitchen?"
"Yes, sir, the carpenters have just finished."

"Have all the men good bunks and dry straw?"
"Yes sir, the sergeant in charge of quarters reports that all the men are comfortable."

"And the bathhouse?"
"It will be ready for use this afternoon."

"Well, sergeant, better tell the men to turn in early tonight. We will move at nine o'clock tomorrow morning."

Them Was the Days.
It was after the game. In a secluded corner of the shower baths sat a promising young pitcher—that is, he had promised until yanked out in the second.

"Whassamatter, Bill?" asked the shortstop. "Couldn't ye get 'em over?"
"Took too long," replied the pitcher. "They ask too much of a guy. When I was pitchin' hand grenades in France it was 'One strike! You're out!'"

His Not to Reason Why.
Regimental headquarters had just been set up and the fussy colonel decided that he must have a flagpole.

"O'Hara," he told his orderly. "Go out and get me a tall pole—the tallest you can find."
Ten minutes later O'Hara re-entered with a lanky and embarrassed companion.
"Colonel," he explained, "there ain't a pole in the outfit over five foot eight, but this guy's a Lithuanian and, whatever you want him for, I don't believe nobody will ever notice the difference."

And on Monday the American Legion will stage a picnic at the city lake that will be worth the money. Plenty of water, refreshments and good, clean athletic contests. For you and yours.

Normal students, big, little, old and young, are invited to attend our picnic on July 5th at the city lake. Amusement for everybody.

Remember the next meeting at the city hall. Be sure and attend. Special business to attend to and a good time on the side. First Monday in July.

The legion is backing the boy scouts and their organization as the doughboys should. Anything that is worthy receives the support of this organization.

Sam Schlenberg, an all round good scout and an ex-soldier, states that he will be on the scene July 5th at the lake. Sam is partly responsible for this affair and if anything happens out of the ordinary people can find him at the Model store, (that is if he has not something on the string.)

Lowery Herrell, an official of this post, is scheming a lot these days. Mr. Herrell is a lawyer by profession and naturally a schemer. Anyway, he is trying to figure out how he is going to fill three dates on the same day when all three parties will be present at the picnic.

Plenty of cars, busses and Fords to take the crowd to the lake July 5th. "If you can't afford to marry, you can't afford a Ford." Ain't it so?

Our home and its surroundings may be a reality after the stunt on the 5th. If we can induce the amusement-loving public to jar loose a little money the dreams of the American legion may come true.

"Over the top" and then some is to be the policy of this post from this date. Never look back, that's us all over. "Mabel."

Presidential Bets
It was McAdoo vs. the field today. Managers of all rival aspirants for the democratic presidential nomination declared the first business of the convention when balloting began was to block McAdoo. Leaders of big camps opposing the former secretary of the treasury said their greatest weakness lay in their inability to form a definite alliance though they hope an arrangement of this sort might be effected before the day was over. The organization of Gov. Cox, however, declared that the formation of a spec-

MRS. ELWELL HIDES FROM CAMERAMAN

Mrs. Joseph B. Elwell and her son Richard.

After living for years in almost complete obscurity, Mrs. Joseph B. Elwell, widow of the murdered New York whist expert, suddenly finds herself besieged by newspaper photographers and reporters. She doesn't like it, as the photo indicates. She had not lived with her husband for four years before his death.

It took to beat McAdoo was unnecessary as there were enough anti-McAdoo delegates already to insure his defeat without the aid of centralized leadership.

MR. TAFT STIRS CHICAGO TO A VICE CRUSADE

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, July 2.—Fresh impetus was given the committee of fifteen's fight on commercial vice in Chicago by the recent address of former President William Howard Taft at the committee's annual banquet.
"No such trade can be carried on unless the owners of city property rent or lease it for the purpose," said Mr. Taft. "The committee of fifteen have found out who the owners are of the property in the red light districts and have prosecuted them, giving them by notice an opportunity to stop this unlawful use of their property before taking legal proceedings. They have secured an admirable law, by which, when they ascertain that property is being thus unlawfully used, they can file a bill for an injunction against its further use and thus abate a nuisance, and compel the property to be idle for a year."
"The members of the committee are engaged in fighting an evil which is peculiarly tenacious in a great city where municipal politics come close to the ground and in which vice corruption and blackmail too frequently play an important part. It needs courage to fight the criminal purposes and facilities of the underworld, but the committee of fifteen and its superintendent have had the courage and shrewdness and common sense needed to win. They have so minimized commercialized vice in Chicago as greatly to reduce its harmful and noxious results. They must keep at it, however—eternal vigilance is the price of its victory."

In presenting his annual report Supt. S. P. Thrasher said that since the injunction and abatement law went into effect in Illinois in July, 1915, the committee had written 988 informal notices. "Of that number," he said, "807 owners or agents have taken such action as to make it unnecessary to proceed further under the law. One hundred and eighty-one of them have been careless or defiant (I think in most cases it was carelessness rather than defiance) and the second or formal notice under the injunction law has been necessary. This law has proved so effective that only 16 injunctions have been applied for and secured. In all but two of them the injunction has accomplished all that could be desired. These two have recently defied the law and require further attention by the committee.

"We are having amicable and effective co-operation with owners and agents of property which we find to be used for immoral purposes. During the year covered by this report, 86 per cent of owners and agents notified of the illegal use of their property have acted promptly to correct the conditions of which we complained."

The committee of fifteen was organized in 1908 by 15 prominent citizens to fight the white slave traffic in Chicago. Supt. Thrasher reports it has grown to include more than 500 citizens and had a directorate of 50. The executive committee chosen from the directors retains a membership of 15.

Expenses are met by contributions. At the meeting at which Mr. Taft spoke, Supt. Thrasher reports the committee was refinanced for the next five years.

Ancient Egyptians regarded the earth as an elephant standing on a swimming turtle's back.

Eyes Made Equal

If your eyes are not working together—if one of them is equal to its task—you are under a great disadvantage.

If your eyes are not serving you properly everything you do will be worse than it should be—though seeming right to you.

Think what this means. How easily a reputation for skill may slip away from you and your earning capacity lessened.

You can only be at your best while both eyes are giving you their best service. If they are not, waste no time in hesitation, but call and let us make a careful examination.

The Coming of Dr. McCash.
Doctor McCash, president of Phillips university at Enid, Okla., will arrive in Ada Saturday night on the Katy. He will preach in the Christian church Sunday morning. He will leave some time in the afternoon. The only opportunity the members of the church will have to hear him, therefore, will be on Sunday morning. Every member of the church ought to turn out to hear President McCash. The minister of this church has heard him on several occasions and says without reservation that he is one of the best preachers of our time. He will have some things to say about that growing institution at Enid that every member of the church ought to hear. Let us have a great turnout Sunday morning.—C. V. Dunn, Minister.

Perhaps You Are, Too

A friend of mine was worn out running around trying to buy a particular something-or-other.

Hours had been spent, also strength and temper, and the desired article had not been found.

I asked if a try had been made at such and such a store.

The reply was "No, of course not, they don't carry such things."

I disagreed. We went together and found what was wanted.

My friend said: "How did you know?"

"Easy," I replied. "They advertised them last week."

Without seeing the joke, she said: "I never have time to read advertisements. I'm too busy."

Perhaps you are, too.

Many people are too busy to take time to save time trouble and money. They buy by chance—and hard work.

Reading advertisements is more than a time-saver; it's a good, safe investment in information concerning the best things the market affords.

Daisies.
They lift their heads to heaven,
seeking to mingle with the stars—
millions of them, scattered in wild profusion over meadow and pasture land. Men walk on them, tramp them down—but they rise again, so-berene, confident, searching the light which gives them life.

Daisies! Our fields are full of them. From afar their white heads give color to the landscape. Their yellow centered blossoms, blown by the wind, wave obedience to the day and, by their graceful beckoning, invite us to take them home.

Daisies! Our empty vases call for them; our umbrella stands, our jardanieres yearn for their beautiful blooms. And they are so near to us, so easy to get, that it seems a pity to waste their beauty in an unfrequented field.

Get them for the house, for the office, to wear. Even though like weeds they grow, God's love shines from their faces and blesses the corner they fill. —Milwaukee Journal.

Young Married People Entertain.

ried People's class of the Methodist church gave a picnic at the city

Something like 45 members were present and the crowd motored to the park in cars. The party formally started at 6:30 and left immediately for the park.

Supper was served which consisted of chicken salads, deviled eggs, ice cream and cake. A few numbers for the entertainment of the crowd were given by the trio composed of Cranston D. Smith, Britton Turner and Rev. Taylor.

All present report a good time.
This class is composed of 50 members and has grown rapidly in the past few months.

NOVEL FROCK SEEN AT FRENCH RACES

By ELOISE.

The racing season in France always contributes any number of novel and unusual fashions to the woman who goes in for extremes.
All of the well known modistes of the Paris boulevards send their mannequins to attend the races and they are by no means the least of the attractions at these festive affairs with their startling styles and painted cheeks. Many of our American designers get ideas from these exhibitions at the races just as many of our small dressmakers get ideas from the theatrical productions they see.

This pretty Parisian who is wearing an afternoon frock of dark tri-colored material was snapped at the races recently. The blouse is a simple affair made in kimono style while the skirt looks like a small apron, the two sides being left open and filled in with lighter material. The most unique part of the whole frock is the panel which trims the blouse and skirt. It is made of filet lace after the fashion of the woolen sweaters. The lighter material shows through this lace with a very pleasing effect. The short skirt marks the frock as Parisian as no feature could. Note the little tan shaped hat with its curled ostrich feather drooping down over the ear and cheek.

Whipped Cream.
Cream is better for whipping if 24 or 36 hours old. If heavy cream is used it is well to dilute from 1-4 to 1-3 its bulk in milk; thin cream is whipped without being diluted. Cream should be thoroughly chilled for whipping. Turn cream into a bowl (do not select the bowl too large), set in a pan of crushed ice, to which water is added that the cream may be quickly chilled; without water in ice the cream will not be so thoroughly chilled. The dover egg beater is best for whipping cream; undiluted heavy cream if beaten for a moment too long will come to butter.

Powdered sugar may be added if desired and cream whipped just once more to mix well. May be flavored with any fruit juices. Put in ice until ready to serve.

News From Movieland

Word came to us that Marion Davies, Cosmopolitan star, has had her famous feet insured for $300,- 000. This makes us wonder if the pretty little film star is to hark back to her dancing days and if she does return to her first love will she dance in the films or out of them. There seems to be no one who can answer us.

Did you ever stop to think how few dancers, really good dancers, are appearing before the camera today? They can almost be counted on the fingers of one hand.
Marion is one of the few who belong to this slender category. She began her career dancing. She preaches dancing as the exercise par excellence and has the whole history of the art on the tip of her tongue and illustrations to with it in the tips of her toes.

According to the statement of her maid, she easily wears out two pairs of dancing shoes a week.
Those come to her from Pinet's,
Paris, France, in lots of fifty pairs, and are built on a round-toed pattern favored by the Royal Copenhagen baller.

Read and Weep, Girls.

If Richard Barthelmess is your very favorite actor prepare to shed tears now. If you have sent him unread crush notes and scented letters rotte to your boudoir and sob for Richard has taken unto himself a wife. This very young and very handsome leading man married
Mary Hay Caldwell of New York City a few days ago. Richard is twenty-five years old and his wife is but eighteen.

She is reported as being an unusually charming girl. She was the little girl in the 1919 Follies who did the act with the "dog."
She also appeared in the "Nine O'Clock Frolic." "Way Down
East," in which she made her recent screen appearance, is not her first picture. She was seen as a dancer in the dugout scene in "Griffith's Hearts of the World." At that time she was studying dancing under Ruth St. Dennis at Denishaw. Griffith advised her to go on the stage and get a little more experience before going in for a screen career. Miss Hay followed his advice and is now considered a real "find."

She is the daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Frank Merrill Caldwell.
Anyway, girls, that puts an end to the gossip that Dick is married to either of the Gishes.

Edgar Hudson, who is in reality
Edgar Moray, son of a millionaire

"extra" in the latest Elaine Ham-

Blackberry Preserves.

Select large, ripe, but not soft, berries. Allow one pound of sugar to one pound of fruit. Put fruit in preserving kettle, let heat very slowly, until there is so much juice that it can boil without burning; boil until perfectly tender, ten or fifteen minutes, then add sugar, mix as gently as possible, and do not boil again, but keep very hot until sugar is perfectly dissolved, then fill jars and seal.

AUTOS NUMBER 7,000,000 IN U.S.

WOULD TAKE TWELVE MILLION TO SATURATE THE UNITED STATES, SAYS EXPERT MANUFACTURER.

"There are already between five million and seven million automobiles across the land," said a prominent Detroit.

"I think that it is safe to say that the nation could buy and continuously operate 10 million or 12 million cars without reaching what might be called the point of saturation."

Twelve million motor cars. It seems absurd, doesn't it? Yet here we are already, a car to every 20 Americans, and in a state like Iowa, one to every six.

Could Transport State. In fact, and I honestly believe in fact as well, you could if necessary over a road, pack the entire population of Iowa into its own motor cars and move it over the state lines overnight, very much as the Toledo trolley cars were moved out of the town and the state.

And yet the absurdity diminishes as you go around and about Detroit and see great motor car factories going up in every direction; factories, given over during the war to the manufacture of munitions, being transformed into automobile production.

You recall Akron, with its overwhelming tire establishments, and Cleveland and Toledo with their own great motor car factories. Or to Flint, where homeless folks have slept night after night in rows of cots in storehouses; or to Lansing, where the automobile factories today quite overshadow the state capital of Michigan in local pride and importance.

Romance of Flint. Of these three Flint was to me by far the most interesting. It seemed hardly credible that in six or seven years a community of 35,000 folk had grown to 91,500 by the 1920 census—and the romance of Durant and Dorr, the one-time carriage builders of that nice, old-fashioned town, far exceeds to my mind, many of those which I have seen spun within the covers of a novel.

A quarter of a century ago these men were already in quantity production, for that day and age. Already they had evolved their famous two wheeled gig—the little "Blue Ribbon"—which they sold for $25 to the boys in the backwoods of the Michigan counties who could not afford to pay one hundred dollars for a regular honest-to-goodness buggy.

100,000 "Blue Ribbons."

More than 20 years ago Durant had brought his production of the "Blue Ribbons" up to over one hundred thousand annually. Then one day—it was hardly 15 years ago—he walked into the cluttered workshop of a quiet mechanical genius who lived up one of the side streets of the town. The man's name was Herman Buick, and he had evolved from scrap material a little internal combustion gasoline engine.

They worked. The man who stood behind Buick and who dropped his carriage building business today heads an automobile industry of his own which is doing a business of about $35,000,000 a year, and he plans in this year of grace 1920 to turn out 3100 cars each working day, or about four to the minute.—Edward Hungerford in Harper's Magazine for July.

When Mud Is Deep

Driving in deep mud is not difficult if good judgment is used by the driver. Don't try to force the car in high gear, causing the wheels to spin. Shift to a lower gear, and take it slowly. If the car stops, reverse and back up several feet. This will give you a chance to gain momentum to overcome the obstruction. Forcing the engine, and spinning the wheels, only tends to dig a hole.

When the rear wheels get into a hole and it is difficult to obtain traction to pull out, back up and then shift gear quickly to take advantage of any forward momentum of the car. This forward drift of the car may be just enough to help you out.

In driving over crater-like holes, watch the road and try to stagger the jolts. Don't let both wheels hit the obstruction squarely. The impact will not be severe on the car. The effect is noticeable when crossing rough tracks at an angle.

Backing up in mud has a tendency to unlock the chain fasteners. Then when you drive along for a while, one or more of your chains may be lost. This can be avoided by putting a piece of wire around the locking clamp. It is an easy matter to remove it with a pair of pliers.

Always bear in mind that chains when installed should be draped over the tire with the locking clamps toward the rear. Then the forward movement of the car does not tend to unlock them. Do not install too tightly, but allow enough freedom, so they can creep. This prevents cutting the rubber in one place. Cross links should be replaced immediately when broken, and in such a manner that the open part of the hooks is on the outside, and also that the new cross link member will lie flat on the tire without any twist.

Tourists Guide

Mammoth Cave, one of the seven wonders of the world, is as prominent on the itinerary of the European touring America as is Venice on the schedule of the American visiting the "Old Country". Mammoth Cave invariably surpasses the expectations of its visitors. The magnitude, beauty and natural phenomena of the cave furnishes a delightful surprise.

The cave is located in the heart of a primitive forest. It contains broad avenues, halls, domes and corridors, and vast roofs, some of which are two acres in extent. Over 300 feet below the surface of the earth the visitor may ride on a rayless, soundless river several miles long. The accompanying pictures show the arched rock entrance of the cave and Star Chamber. The latter is a huge amphitheatre, with a roof that resembles a starry heaven when all lights have been extinguished.

There are four routes through Mammoth Cave, consuming from three to ten hours' time, each with features of surpassing interest. Tourists should arrange to spend two or three days at the cave. All of its wonders cannot be seen in less than a week's time. Among the most spectacular features are: Mammoth Dome, Echo River, Giant's Coffin, Bottomless Pit, Corkscrew, Pillars of Hercules, River Styx, Martha Washington's Statue, Fat Man's Misery, Banquet Hall, and Water Clock. Ample hotel and garage facilities will be found both at the cave and at small nearby towns. From both Louisville and Nashville there are several routes the motorist may follow. Information concerning these may be had at the Goodrich branch in either city.

was this formerly done and why has it been abandoned? If I decide to have 34 inch wheels in front, shall I have to buy new wheels? A. Smaller wheels were used in front to lessen first cost, weight etc., but it necessitated carrying two spare tires instead of one and the rear tires could not be moved forward as they wore, to prolong their life. By all means have the front wheels brought up to 34 inch. This may easily be done by the wheelwright who simply builds up the felloe to the right thickness.

Gasoline Leaks. Q. My fuel pipe persistently leaks and I cannot stop it. Tightening it to the point where it is in danger of breaking does no good. I live far away from any repair shop where I could have the threads fixed. Would it be advisable to use red lead or white lead on this joint, as they do in gas fitting? A. The gasoline would dissolve the oil in the lead, or, if set first, it would be difficult to take the joint apart without damaging it. Rub soap in the threads or paint them with a heavy coat of shellac before assembling. These substances are not so readily affected by gasoline, and so may do the work to your satisfaction.

Locating Missing Clyinder. Q. I have a six cylinder engine and sometimes I find it hard to locate the cylinder that is missing. Can you tell me a simple way of locating the cylinder that is not firing? A. A simple way is to short circuit the plugs in succession. If you short circuit a working cylinder it will affect the speed and sound of the motor. The missing cylinder will be located when the short circuiting has no effect on the running of the engine.

IGLIS Own Children. By the Associated Press CHICAGO, July 1.—Mrs. Margaret Emerson, age 36, killed her three children this morning with a razor and then slashed her own throat. Mrs. Emerson had been separated from her husband for a year.

Countless numbers of men, women, boys and girls enslave themselves to the many times evil popularities of the time. Some one leads out on a proposition and the great mass of humanity follows its bellweather.

Many popularities are not to be condemned—many are of the latter let us speak. DOES THE NUMBER FOLLOWING OR CONDONING CERTAIN PRACTICES MAKE THOSE PRACTICES RIGHT? SURELY NOT SO WHEN THE SCRIPTURES TELL US THAT THE MANY TAKE THE PATH TO DESTRUCTION AND FEW—COMPARATIVELY—LIVE JUST LIVES.

MAN, WOMAN, ARE YOU SHOWING ANY COURAGE. ARE YOU USING ANY BACKBONE WHEN YOUR SENSIBILITIES TELL YOU A THING IS WRONG AND YOU GO AHEAD AND DO IT FOR FEAR OF BEING UNPOPULAR? WHAT A POPULARITY YOU MUST HAVE THAT YOU HAVE TO PET IT SO. HOW SHAMEFUL THAT WHEN MEN GO COURTING MISS POPULARITY THEY HAVE "TO EAT THE KING'S MEAT AND DRINK THE KING'S WINE."

GOD GIVE US MEN WHO LOVE RIGHTEOUS LIVING ABOVE A PUNY POPULARITY. —O. V. M.

Our Question Box

Weight of Air in Tires.

Q. When a tire is inflated to something like ninety pounds, the compressed air in it must have considerable weight. Does it add enough to make any appreciable difference in the weight of the wheel or the operation of the car? A. In order to produce this pressure you must have about five times as much air in the tire as when it is fitted to atmospheric pressure. The air will then weigh about five times as much as the air outside, which amount would not be appreciable.

Same Size Wheels.

Q. I intend changing my old style clincher rims to the quick-dismountable type. My front wheels are 32 inch and the rear 34 inch. Would it be advisable to make them the same size? Are cars equipped with wheels of different sizes any more? Why

CHRISTY WITH OTHER ARTISTS TO SCREEN WORK

Te famous artist has long been the ally of the advertising man in the designing of posters and pictures for ads. Now it seems he is to go a step further and lend his brush in the aid of the newest of the big industries, that of the motion picture. According to a new agreement just reached, Howard Chandler Christy, creator of the famous "Christy girls," and Penrhyn Stanlaws, the well-known magazine illustrator, will assist Cosmopolitan Productions in the art work for a new series of pictures. Mr. Christy has already contributed a beautiful painting of Marion Davies, the youthful star, and Mr. Stanlaws has executed some novel drawings for "The Miracle of Love," the latest picture, which is coming to the Liberty Theatre today.

This is a story of British society and involves the love of a Duchess, married unhappily, for a young son of a peer who has been elevated to the title suddenly through the death of his elder brother. The cast includes such screen favorites as Lucy Cotton and Wyndham Standing. The picture was directed by Robert Z. Leonard.

Stock Market

Cattle Lower, Hogs Higher, Sheep Firm.

KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS, June 28, 1920.—Liberal receipts today weakened the cattle market, and the grass fat cattle sold lower. Fed steers were in moderate supply and sold at steady prices, top $18.75. Some Greenwood county, Kansas, steers brought $15.85. Hogs were in active demand with prices 15 to 25 cents higher. Lambs were strong, top $16.25 and sheep steady.

Today's Receipts.

Today's receipts were 15,000 cattle, 10,000 hogs, and 6,500 sheep, compared with 15,000 cattle, 10,000 hogs and 9,000 sheep a year ago, and 11,500 cattle, 17,500 hogs and 15,000 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle.

Liberal receipts of cattle at all the principal western markets forced lower prices on all grades except for good thick fleshed fed and grass fat steers. Killers were fairly anxious for the better grades. A good many fed steers sold at $16 to $17.75, and yearlings $15 to $16.50. Some 13,18 pound Greenwood county, Kansas, steers brought $15.85 and others $14 to $15. A large bunch of Texas grassers on the native side sold at $12.25, and in the quarantine division at $9.50 to $12. Declines in most grass fat cattle are quoted at 25 cents. Cows and heifers were 15 to 25 cents lower. "Canners" were slow sale. Veal calves and bulls were steady. Stockers and Feeders.

Some of the best stockers and feeders sold at steady prices, but the plainer kinds were slow sale and lower. Some common stockers passed without bids.

Hogs.

Hog receipts were about the same as a week ago, and the market was higher. The advance was quoted at 15 to 25 cents. Both shippers and packers were in the competition and paid up to $15.75. The bulk of the hogs brought $15.25 to $15.65. There was a fairly active demand for pigs.

Sheep and Lambs.

Native lambs sold up to $16.25, and fair quality Arizona lambs at $15. The per cent of cull was much the same as last week. Prices were quoted firm. Some 109 pound New Mexico wethers brought $9.15 and native ewes sold at $5 to $7. Generally steady.

Horses and Mules.

Light receipts of horses and mules sold at steady prices. Larger supplies would have developed a better demand. Receipts will continue small for some time.—CHARLES M. PIPKIN, Market Correspondent.

To the Hon. City Commissioners and Merchants of Ada: We the Board of Auxiliary to the Chamber of Commerce protest the placing sign boards on our street corners. Surely, we should have civic pride, not to want to disfigure our beautiful city with unsightly sign boards.

Furthermore, we protest against the placing of bill boards within the city limits and ask our commissioners to have all such removed.

Signed,
Board of Auxiliary to Chamber of Commerce.

NOW SWEARS BY BUDDHA INSTEAD OF CHRISTIAN GOD

BUENOS AIRES, July 1.—Permission to swear by Buddha instead of God and the Holy Apostles was granted by the superior court of Corwoda the other day to a young law student of agnostic belief when he took the oath of membership in the Argentine bar. He sought first to take the oath "by my country and my honor," but the court informed him that he would be obliged to take a "religious oath."

The student, it is related, thereupon went to a library and began a profound study of the world's religions, on which he spent several days. He then returned to the court and informed the learned judges he had found that the Buddhist religion was "the most moral and most complete" and asked permission to take oath upon it. The judges consulted musty tomes of Argentine law and decided that there was nothing to exclude him from taking such an oath.

Miss Della Davis of Stratford who is on her way to Sulphur is spending a few days with friends who are attending this school.

Remember the picture show tonight at 7:30 in the auditorium. Special program. Miss Nettie Mannville, pianist, will render several selections on this occasion. All are invited.

President Perkins is in Oklahoma City today attending a meeting of Normal school presidents. He will probably have something of interest to tell us when he returns.

Ice cream was served and at that time of the day it was a delightful surprise. Everyone left with the wish that the Y. W. C. A. could give surprises more often.

Y. W. C. A. Surprise Party. The Y. W. C. A. girls gave a surprise party to its members yesterday afternoon on the normal campus.

Another game was a whistling contest. The contestants were to take crackers and whistle before the next one could start. This proved very popular and all enjoyed the occasion very much.

The Fourth draws near. Many of the students are leaving for their homes in the neighboring cities while others will remain here and take in the American Legion Picnic at the City Lake, July 6th.

The pictures tonight at the Normal will feature "Enoch Ardan" a picture that has proven very popular throughout the country. All are invited to attend. Special musical numbers.

The Seniors will hold their affair next week and plan to stage something out of the ordinary. We know the seniors always make a success of their entertainments and we hope the weather is favorable on that date.

Games by the children from the education building were played this morning. They are given 30 minutes each day for recreation and the little folks enjoy the pastime. Teachers in this department instruct in the games.

Several unusual games were played, among them being "Find the Coin," in which each person shook hands with everyone else, the first person shaking hands with the one holding the coin was the winner. Miss Zuma Horton is now the proud possessor of one cent.

Home Economics Class. The home economics class that gave the reception yesterday morning is composed of the following girls: who took an active part in the occasion: Amy Anderson, Anna Lee Bolton, Velma Bolen, Mary Blize, Mary Daniel, Arvilla Davis, Ada Estes, Mrs.

HOLDENVILLE POST
RAPS GORE RECORD

By News' Special Service.
HOLDENVILLE, July 1.—Charging that Senator T. P. Gore humiliated them while they were in active service by his "unpatriotic and un-American attitude" on open war measures, members of the Thomas Breeding post of the American Legion passed resolutions here last night condemning the junior senator and his attitude.
The resolution charges him specifically with a speech in which he referred to soldiers on the Mexican border as "sunshine patriots," and "summer soldiers." His utter disregard for the interests of the soldiers and dependents is rebuked in the resolutions. Gore on this occasion, the post members declare, opposed raising the pay of soldiers from $15 to $30 and fought a provision for the payment of a bonus to dependents, and other war measures.

Those Special Sermons on the Bible. The two special sermons on the Bible to be preached at the Christian church will be delivered on the following dates: the first one dealing with the origin of the Bible will be delivered on the evening of July 11; the other dealing with how the Bible as a book came down to us through a period of more than sixteen hundred years, will be delivered two weeks later on the evening of July 25. Maps and charts will be used to make everything plain.

Sunday With the Methodists. The services next Sunday at the First Methodist church will be of a patriotic nature. The theme for the morning will be "Religion and Patriotism." The evening theme will be "Liberty vs. License."

Misses Ruby Gay and Esther Lannan left today to visit with Misses Ruth and Ada Estes of Sulphur.

Jack Kelly took the Frisco south for a visit in the metropolis of Mill Creek. He will return in a few days.

PLATFORM SPLITS
THE DEMOCRATS

tion for ratification of the treaty was reached in the reading, there was a big demonstration, about half of the delegates getting to their feet and cheering the work of the platform committee.

When the declaration for the league of nations was reached, Senator Glass put the emphasis on the word "the" and the convention stood up and cheered for a minute, while the band struck up another rollicking air.

Nearly every plank got a little applause when it was read, but the declarations of the platform were not new to many of the delegates, and for the most part they became restless before the report was half finished. The monotony of the proceedings apparently was too tame for them and they showed in many ways that they were anxious for a fight on the floor to begin.

Big Race Meet to Take Place in City
Of Coalgate. 3, 4, 5

Probably one of the biggest race meets ever held in the southwest is billed to take place at Coalgate July 3, 4 and 5 at the county fair grounds.

It is said that there will be running races, harness races, etc., such as have not been seen there before as some of the fastest horses in the country are going to be on hand.

There will be two Pontotoc county horses in the running, one owned by Claude Jones and the other by Dan Rogers, both of this city. These horses are prize winners and their owners are expecting great things of them at Coalgate.

Band music and all the other entertainment usually seen at such places are promised all those who attend.
